SOCIETY OF PENNSYLVANIA WOMEN IN NEW YORK

MANUAL

—1914—

NEW YORK

249 West 13th Street

Foreword

Founded in the fall of 1913, the Society of Pennsylvania Women in New York has begun its career with every promise of a brilliant future. One hundred and seventy members and guests participated in its First Annual Dinner, on December 13, 1913, which every participant doubtless recalls as a most enjoyable and notable occasion.

The distinctive programme of the Society provides for an annual dinner in conjunction with the annual dinner of The Pennsylvania Society, its members thus being insured of participation in one of the most notable public banquets in America. Other meetings of a less formal character are arranged from time to time.

The Society invites the active interest and support of Pennsylvania women everywhere. Applications for membership should be addressed to Mrs. William Harrison Brown, Secretary, at the office of the Society, 249 West 13th Street, New York.

Society of Pennsylvania Women in New York

The Society of Pennsylvania Women in New York was organized by a Committee of The Pennsylvania Society, of which the Director was Chairman. The organization was completed September 25, and the Society was inaugurated by a meeting of its Council following a dinner given to the Council of The Pennsylvania Society and the Council of the Society of Pennsylvania Women in New York by Mr. George C. Boldt at the Waldorf-Astoria on November 6, 1913.

The purpose of the Society is to cultivate social intercourse among its members and to collect historical material relating to the State of Pennsylvania. Its development will proceeed, therefore, on these two broad general lines.

An essential feature is the Annual Dinner to be given on the date of the Annual Dinner of The Pennsylvania Society, but as a separate function, following which the members of the Society will occupy the boxes of the Dinner Hall of The Pennsylvania Society for the addresses of the evening.

In a sense an outgrowth of The Pennsylvania Society, the Society of Pennsylvania Women in New York is a wholly independent organization, organized with the friendliest feelings towards the older organization, and in large part from the women of its membership.

Membership in this Society is open to women born in the State of Pennsylvania; to women who have been residents of that State for a continuous period of seven years; to women whose husbands were born in Pennsylvania or who may have resided therein seven consecutive years; and to the descendants of all women eligible to membership.

A cordial invitation to join the Society is extended to Pennsylvania women everywhere. Application blanks may be had by addressing the Secretary, Mrs. William Harrison Brown, 249 West 13th Street, New York.

The First Annual Dinner

The First Annual Dinner of the Society was given in conjunction with the Fifteenth Annual Dinner of The Pennsylvania Society. It was held in the Green Room of the Waldorf Apartment of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

One hundred and seventy-four women participated in the Dinner.

As the programme of the evening called for no addresses, no formal programme was arranged. During the Dinner the Director of The Pennsylvania Society on behalf of Mr. Thomas E. Kirby presented to the Society a magnificently embroidered banner, which will undoubtedly become its permanent emblem. The name of the Society is embroidered in gold on a background of violet, and it is further embellished with three clover leaves, taken from the early seal of Germantown. Mrs. Patton, who presided at the Dinner, accepted Mr. Kirby's munificent gift in the name of her Society. At the same time, as a token of good will, the Council of The Pennsylvania Society presented Mrs. Patton with a bunch of American Beauty roses.

The guests of the Society included Mrs. John K. Tener, the wife of the Governor of Pennsylvania, and Miss Florence Guernsey, President of the New York City Federation of Women's Clubs.

At the conclusion of the Dinner the company removed to the boxes of the Grand Ball Room for the speeches of The Pennsylvania Society, the procession being headed by the new banner of the Society of Pennsylvania Women, accompanied with the trumpeters and flags of The Pennsylvania Society.

Thus the Society accomplished its first event, and entered upon what its members have every reason to believe will prove a notable career.

Constitution

ARTICLE I—Name.

This organization shall be known as the Society of Pennsylvania Women in New York.

ARTICLE II—Object.

Its purpose shall be to cultivate social intercourse among its members and to collect historical material relating to the State of Pennsylvania.

ARTICLE III—Membership.

Women born in the State of Pennsylvania, or who have been residents of that State for a continuous period of seven years, and their descendants; and women whose husbands were born in Pennsylvania or who may have resided therein for seven consecutive years, and their descendants, are eligible for membership.

ARTICLE IV—Government.

SEC. 1. The Government of the Society shall be vested in a Council, to be composed of the President, three Vice-Presidents, Secretary, Treasurer and nine other members. The officers shall be elected annually. The full term of office for the other members of the Council shall be three years, the allotment of the members of the first Council to be by lot. The Council may fill vacancies occurring in its body until the annual meeting next thereafter.

SEC. 2. The officers of the Society and the Council for the first year shall hold office until the annual meeting following December 31, 1914.

SEC. 3. The Council shall appoint from its own number or from the Society at large the committees needful for the business of the Society, and it may declare and fill vacancies at any time in any committee.

Article V—Officers.

Sec. 1. The officers of the Society shall consist of a President, three Vice-Presidents, a Secretary, and Treasurer. They shall perform the duties usually assigned to their respective offices. The President and Secretary shall be members ex-officiis of all committees.

Sec. 2. The officers of the Society, members of the Council and members of committees shall hold office until their successors shall have been chosen.

Sec. 3. The Council may, at its discretion, create other offices than those named in this Constitution and shall elect officers to fill them; but such officers shall not become members of the Council except by amendment to the Constitution.

Article VI—Dues.

Sec. 1. Each member of the Society shall pay to the Treasurer an entrance fee of $10.00 and annual dues of $5.00.

Sec. 2. Members elected before December 31, 1914, shall be admitted without the payment of the entrance fee.

Sec. 3. Any member failing to comply with the requirements of the Constitution may be dropped from the roll by vote of the Council.

Article VII—Meetings.

Sec. 1. The Annual Meeting of the Society for the election of officers and members of the Council and the transaction of other business shall be held on such date as the Council may determine, one month's notice in writing to be given to the members.

Sec. 2. Meetings of the Society may be called from time to time by vote of the Council. Special meetings may be called by the President on request of three members of the Council, or on the written request of ten members of the Society. Fifteen members shall form a quorum.

Sec. 3. The Council shall meet from time to time as it sees fit, or upon the call of the President. Five members shall contitute a quorum.

ARTICLE VIII—Election of Members.

All members of the Society shall be elected by ballot by the Council.

ARTICLE IX—Resignations.

All resignations shall be made in writing to the Secretary and shall be acted upon by the Council; but no resignation may be accepted until all indebtedness to the Society by the resigning member shall have been discharged. All interest in the property of the Society pertaining to members resigning, or otherwise ceasing to be members, shall be vested in the Society.

ARTICLE X—Amendments to the Constitution

This constitution may be amended by a two-thirds vote of the Council, approved by a vote of the majority of the members present at a meeting; two weeks' notice in writing to be given to all the members of the Society.

ARTICLE XI—By-Laws.

By-Laws not in conflict with this Constitution may be adopted, repealed or amended by a majority vote of the Council, approved by a majority vote of the members of the Society present at any meeting.
